YORK FIGHTS FOR FUNDS

by David H. Olivier

Last Wednesday, an advertisement appeared in the Toronto Star, directed towards the Ontario Government's Education Minister, Dr. Bette Stephenson and the G.C.S.U., inviting them to note the Ministry with regards to university funding. The article was entitled "Do Ontario Universities Have a Future? Do Your Children Have a Future in Them?" The advertisement went on to list facts proving that Ontario universities are the most poorly funded in Canada. They expressed fears of increased demand for university placements from groups new to the university environment: ethnic communities, part-time students, women, first-generation university attendees and adult students. The ad summed up by encouraging those who "believe that a university place should be available for every qualified student" to write to their MPP or Dr. Stephenson and support groups sponsoring the advertisement.

The first name listed in the group of paid sponsors was that of our own Association des Etudiants du Collège Glendon, or better known to us Anglophones as the G.C.S.U. When questioned regarding this advertisement, V.P. External Affairs Jas Ahmad indicated that indeed the G.C.S.U. had endorsed the advertisement. He went on to remind us that twenty years ago, then Education Minister Bill Davis had promised "a seat for every qualified student" in places of higher education.

The issue is two-pronged: quality of education on the one hand, addissibility to education on the other. The quality of education is reduced if students have reduced access to labs, professors, libraries, or professors are forced to teach more often and to larger classes; and if overcrowding in general pervades the learning atmos-

The fears expressed by Ahmad are that not only will university funding be reduced, but that penalties imposed against universities that expand too quickly will be stiffened. At present, if a university grows in enrolment over a certain percentage, it does not receive any funding for those students over the high-water mark. This is precisely what happened this year to York University; our growth limit was 5%, and we exceeded it. Therefore, we received no extra money for those students over the 5.5% line. York's "blowing the whistle" on this policy is what has sparked the "war of words" presently carried out in the media between York and Dr. Stephenson.

However, the worst fear of YUFA is that this is only the first year of a "crisis period" as more and more students will try to enter university. York is acutely affected because it caters to a unique clientele: many of our students are first-generation students, or students returning to university after an absence.

La convocation des étudiants du mercredi 21 septembre, n'a certes pas laissé indifférents.

"Une cerimoni officielle créee troisième et je ne sais pas s'il y aura ceux qui ne l'apprécieront pas. Je ne vais pas disposer de l'autorité nécessaire."

"Il ne faut pas qu'une rumeur qui se propage.

Les gens se sentent si seuls.

Nouveau, nous savons qu'aujourd'hui, certaines rumeurs allaiteront gaie-ment et laissent entendre que convocation était synonyme d'initiation."

"On sait comment, aujourd'hui, il y a des rumeurs qui se propagent.

Leur introduction a été faite par les étudiants francophones de la première année. Il y a eu deux moments importants dans l'histoire de cette cerimoni officielle entre les étudiants, les professeurs et l'administration de l'Université York: l'un est la convocation, l'autre est la cerimoni en présence de personnel du bureau, ministre des affaires, etc., lorsqu'il y a des rumeurs qui se propagent.

Un événement "velours-rouge et bleu-tapis" alors qu'il aurait pu être une heure de lourds travaux et pas de temps de répit.

Let us assume that the inflation rate will average 7.5% between now and the end of this century. This would mean that the average rate of inflation during the next 17 years would be close to the rate we have experienced in Canada during the last 17 years, i.e. 7.5%. What would this mean in terms of the cost of goods and services in the year 2000? From 1901 to 1935, the rate of inflation, while not too steady from year to year, averaged 2.8%.

Slugs have high blood pressure

Slugs have high blood pressure, at least when you consider them in comparison to humans, according to Dr. Andre Davul of Laval University in Quebec. ACADEMIC AFFLICTION

3 am in the morning, the day before that thirty page essay is due the brutal realities of academia drag our minds and bodies through treacherous literary abuse, leaving pleasant memories of the party a few days before long gone. Should we be thanking our professors or ourselves for this sadistic method of attaining knowledge? Neither.

Let me introduce the star in this mini-melodrama: procrastination.

We have all felt its carress on one occasion or another and naïvely followed straight to that two hour “coffe break” or one hour “quick telephone call”.

Keel campus offers credit courses to aid students in adjusting to the tight schedules of academic and its hidden dangers. Why do we have none such credit courses? The lone fighting unit ever vaguely prepared to battle this academic affliction is our own Counselling & Career Centre, which valiantly offers their exam anxiety and essay writing workshops year after year. But it is the university that stood a stand against this moral parasite of academic life!

Turn off that television. Unplug that phone. The terrors of procrastination creep in stealthily and become all but obvious none of us need. For the first year students and veterans of academia the warning is repeated - BEWARE!!

MAL SCOLASTIQUE

Trois heures du matin, un travail de trente pages à rendre le lendemain, la dure réalité de la vie universitaire fait subir à notre matière grise déjà encombrée de terribles abus littéraires, relayant aux oubliettes les bons souvenirs de la partie d’il y a quelques jours. À qui de nos professeurs ou de nous-mêmes dois-on donner le crédit de cette méthode sadomasochiste d’acquérir une éducation? Ni l’un ni l’autre.

Permettez-moi de vous présenter la vedette de cette mini-procrastination mélo-dramatique.

Nous avons tous entendu à un moment ou un autre son appel irrésistible et suivi naïvement pour une pause café” de deux heures ou un “petit coup de téléphone d’une heure... en vitesse”.

Le campus de la rue Keel offre des cours à crédit pour aider les étudiants à ajuster à leurs emplois du temps chargés et à prévenir les pièges qui s’y cachent. Pourquoi n’en est-il pas ainsi à Glendon? Non, unique amorce mobilisant quasiment inappropriée, le seul centre de direction est ce mal de l’école, le centre de conseil et de carrières, qui chaque année offre vaillamment ses ateliers de préparation aux examens et de rédaction de travaux. Le temps est venu pour nous, étudiants, de lutter contre ce parasite intellectuel de la vie universitaire.

Fermez la télévision! Débranchez le téléphone! Le tournoi de la procrastination s’intéresse souvent et deviennent désillusion de boîtes dont nous n’avons pas besoin. Étudiants de première année et vétérans de l’université, l’avertissement retentit de nouveau: DANGER!!

ACADEMIC AFFLICTION

I am quite surprised at the lack of professionalism shown by the25th paper in omitting a summary of the events that took place during Orientation Week for a “quick telephone call”. Glendon may be a bilingual university and that does not mean that all the students are fluent in French or can read despite the article. As one of the many unilingual students at Glendon, I find it quite disappointing not to be able to find out how successful the various activities were. I am not asking for translations of all the articles but I believe Orientation Week is important to all members of the Glendon student body, not just the francophones. I do not believe it professional to take out past grievances on this year’s students for lack of professionalism on the part of the transcriber (or omission) by omitting an article in English on such an important event. I will not repeat itself in the future.

With regards to your editorial, I have had the pleasure of attending Glendon for the past two years, and I have not seen such a well-organized Orientation Week. I believe that the dances, which were held served liquor (and although I am no alcoholic, I think a beer or a drink is nice to have when you are hot), but it is not something to be done by the GCSU that is responsible for the regulations that stipulate you must be nineteen to drink. If you don’t like it, complain to Bill Davis. And anyhow, who says that Orientation Week should be monopolized by first-year students? It is a great time to meet new and old friends, whether they are first or fourth-year students makes no difference.

There was one other small omission that the author made. Orientation Week does not revolve around dances alone. There were quite a few events which did not involve alcohol and thus were open to all students.

I would like to thank David Haines, our Student Union President, Ken Bujold, our V.P. Cultural, and all the other Veeps and Student Senators for the fine job they did in making this year’s Orientation Week a success.

Orientation

To the Editors:

Last Monday, September 19th, the first Pro Tem of the school year came out. When it arrived I eagerly scanned through it, looking for anything that was new. In fact, the first article was written in French. For something as important as Orientation week I do believe that it should be covered in both French and English. Being an anglophone in the unilingual stream here at Glendon, I was very upset at not being able to read about all the events that occurred in these past two weeks. Secondly, absolutely nothing was written about Shinerama. Wasn’t this part of Orientation week? Shinerama was undoubtedly the most worthwhile event that occurred, but for some reason you chose not to mention it, which was very disappointing to see.

Finally, to give credit where it is due, I would like to congratulate the GCSU for a job well done. This has been the best Orientation that Glendon students have experienced in a long time.

Shame on us

I was under the impression that there was no room for bigotry at Glendon College—I’m too completely at odds with everything we represent.

So, when perusing the Opinion in your first issue, I was startled to see a comment printed which is offensive to the members of our community. Shame on you, Chuck Daley, for saying such a thing, even in jest, but greater shame by far upon you, Pro Tem, for having the insensitivy to print it.

I suppose you thought it was cute, but humour is one of the deadliest weapons in the arsenal of bigotry, because it’s the hardest to fight. Please let’s stop this kind of joke, because in the end, it hurts all of us. And that’s NOT funny.

To the Class of 1984

As a university graduate, you have something of interest to offer us your degree, plus a wish to succeed in a professional environment. As one of Canada's major employers, we, too, have something of value to offer you: a respect for your academic achievement and a working milieu for your meaningful contribution. We usually follow the same hiring patterns as the private sector: our recruitment activities, however, are currently affected by a low rate of employee departures and shrinking departmental budgets. We will be interviewing some candidates for anticipated vacancies, in other cases, we will be assessing applications and placing them in inventory, for future consideration.

We invite you to apply, if you are interested in one of the following areas:

Administration Engineering
Business Economics
Commer­ce Computer Science
Computer Science Statistics
Economics

The closing date for applications is 14 October 1983. The Financial Administration Test of Technical Knowledge will be held on 20 October 1983 at 9:00. Please ask your placement office about the exam location. Pick up your copy of the Gomers Public Service Canada publications at your campus placement office or at an office of the Public Service Commission of Canada.

Note: In light of the current reorganization within External Affairs Canada and the ongoing assessment by the department of its future personnel needs, there will be no Foreign Service Officer recruitment competition this year.

Aux finissants de 1984

En votre qualité de jeune universitaire, vous possédez des atouts de marque : votre diplôme, ainsi que votre désir de vous réaliser professionnellement. Nous avons, nous aussi, en tant que l'un des employeurs canadiens les plus importants, quelque chose à vous offrir : un grand respect pour vos succès académiques ainsi qu'un milieu de travail où vous pourrez apporter une contribution précieuse.

Notre politique d'embauche est tournée normalement à celui du secteur privé : à l'heure actuelle nos activités de recrutement sont toutefois soumises à des contraintes budgétaires et à la diminution du taux de départ des employés. Nous désirons donc interviewer certains candidats à jour des postes vacants et dans d'autres cas, nous examinerons les candidatures et les conserverons dans notre répertoire pour une mise à disposition ultérieure.

Nous recrutons des diplômés d'université dans les domaines suivants :

Cruising the Mariposa Belle

by Elizabeth McCallister

As the grand finale to Orientation Week, the Glendon College Student Union executive planned a luxury cruise aboard the Mariposa Belle last Wednesday night.

To the sounds of "Anchors Aweigh", the boat left its pier for the four-hour cruise. The route took merrymakers through the islands along the east shore of Toronto, back to Ontario Place and finally to its dock on Queen's Quay.

The 555 DJ, Rod Weemark, played music for revellers who danced all over the boat. The rolling of the vessel only made the journey all the more fun, as the music blended into the rhythm of the waves for their lack of balance.

Glendonites enjoyed the bar especially at "happy hour" when all drinks were half-price. In addition, halfway through the cruise, free sandwiches were served.

Radio Glendon

I would like to take this time (and Pro Tem's space) to do a few things. First thing is to welcome you to Glendon, or back to Glendon, as the case may be. As always, feel free to drop by Radio Glendon, we will be having an Open House in the near future—watch Pro Tem's declassifieds for the date.

We are still located upstairs in Glendon Hall, but we will be moving downstairs where the art studio used to be again, the date will be announced, be well assured of that. There will be several advantages to our new location, including our own door and a custom built station.

Now for some business: the times for training for new DJ's are in the Declassified section—please consult this if you are new to R.G. Now for you old DJ's please, if you haven't already, give us your name, phone number and the hours you want (1st and 2nd choice) and indicate if you have R.G. experience. Write this info out and give it to Shadi, myself, or pin it on the bulletin board.

There will be a DJ's meeting for ALL DJ's on Monday, October 3rd. We're telling you now, because attendance is VITAL. Again, Radio Glendon extends its ever-friendly hand. Hopefully we'll be making more appearances in Pro Tem as time goes on, what with news about the station, announcements, maybe even the odd record review or R.G. personality profile.

Any way you like it—on the rocks, with orange juice or your favourite mix—Southern Comfort is the one and only!

Hablemos'
por Jorge, Pedro y César

Debido al creciente interés manifestado por los estudiantes hacia el estudio del español tanto en Glendon como en York, PROTEM nos ha cedido un espacio semanal como medio de comunicación y, sobre todo, de expresión hispana.

Los temas a tratar en Hablemos' son ilimitados y cualquier sugerencia o crítica es, por supuesto, bienvenida.

El propósito prioritario de este espacio es compenetrar al máximo el ámbito interuniversitario.

Concientes de la gran cantidad de estudiantes que siguen diversos cursos de español, hemos organizado talleres — ateliers — con el fin de prestar asistencia en el estudio del español.

Tu ayuda es primordial para el buen funcionamiento de esta columna.

YORK UNIVERSITY SCUBA CLUB

An exciting idea! On Thursday nights those of us who are interested in diving will be meeting to learn more about the sport and its future. Meet new buddies, plan future trips, and come to enjoy yourselves in the way that only divers know how.

Lectures and demonstrations have already been planned in Underwater Archaeology, Physiology, and Marine Biology. The future of Rescue Diving will also be offered. At least one club "dive trip" will be planned, and there will be parties and awards. For those of you who have not been diving for a long time a "Review Course" will be offered. And thrilling films of the underwater world will be shown.

Come and join us for our first social-organizational meetings on Thurs., October 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Glendon Field House. The membership fee of $25.00 will start the 1st week of October 31st, 1983
